Firing Squad Carries Out Mikhailovitch's Sentence

PA NEW OBSERVES

Two fields of corn are in tassel on the road to the Harbor bridge, Pa. News notes. This is the most advanced corn field noted in the county.

Miniature golf is apparently preparing for a comeback. Fifteen years ago it was quite the rage.

At a local store yesterday a woman put down an extra nickel with her 50 cent payment for some groceries. It developed that she was from Illinois and was accustomed to paying a sales tax on all purchases.

Lawrence county tourist camps are showing considerable patronage these nights, indicating that the summer touring season of residents from other localities is getting up steam.

Fish are always a big attraction, but that wasn't the interest a few nights ago at Lake Reservoir, which is noted for its ng fish. It was reported to Pa. News. On investigating some excitement at the lake, residents found that a man had fallen in. Not from watching a large fish, but a girl.

Seen in a classified ad in a metropolitan paper: "General household work, no 'driving'. A good thing too, probably, as driving is pretty tricky any way you look at it.

A lady parked her car close to the navy station wagon in front of the post office yesterday. It was so tight she had to have a man direct her in backing out, for, as she said, "I don't want to tangle with the navy," it was reported to Pa. News.

A man and his dog are inseparable whether it is tiny terrier or a huge mongrel as was observed on Washington street last night. A blind man playing an accordion was walking along with a large dog, apparently a mastiff, very close beside him.

Quite a number of downtown pedestrians are missing the drinking fountain that formerly stood along side of the city hall on East street. The fountain was removed last year as a traffic menace to parkers and has never been replaced. When it was there, the coolest water in any of the city fountains was found at the spot.

Good progress is being made in a row of new house being constructed just off of Jackson avenue, near Arlington, Pa. News noted on Tuesday afternoon. A large crew of workmen is engaged in erecting the new homes.

Evidently there must be a scarcity of used cars in the west. Pa. News noted one of the large automobile convoys headed west loaded with four used automobiles. Most of the trailer trucks travel in that direction empty.

Workmen laying curb on Taylor street have reached the top of the Taylor street hill and now are working on that section between Cunningham avenue and East Washington street.

Pa. News has not noticed too much sidewalk replacement in the city during the summer months. Many of the walks in various sections of the city are in a treacherous condition with large holes in them.

A walk along Gaston Park on Tuesday afternoon, proved to Pa. News that the city forestry crew is quite active in keeping the park free of high brush and in general good order. A large number of children were making good use of the playground and tennis areas of the park.

Shortly before 9 o'clock this morning, the burglar alarm on a Public Square business house was evidently tripped by some member of the firm and the loud sounding bell could be heard for some distance. With the absence of any seeming excitement, pedestrians calmly passed the business house wondering why the bell was ringing.

Mikhailovitch Is Executed By Firing Squad

War-time Chetnik Leader Is Shot To Death On Treason Charge

REPORT EIGHT OTHERS EXECUTED

(BULLETIN)
BELGRADE, July 17.—(INS)—Gen. Draja Mikhailovitch, once hailed five years ago as the first guerrilla leader to fight the Nazis, died before Marshal Tito's firing squad at dawn today.

Eight other Yugoslav Chetniks were cut down by the executioners' bullets scarcely 48 hours after they, together with two others tried in absentia, were condemned to death for treason and collaboration.

BELGRADE, July 17.—(INS)—Gen. Draja Mikhailovitch, war-time Chetnik leader and former Yugoslav war minister, died in Belgrade this morning before a firing squad.

First announcement of Mikhailovitch's execution for treason and war crimes made no mention of the fate of eight of ten other men found guilty and sentenced to die with him.

(Reuters said the Chetnik leader's eight followers also were shot and (Continued on Page Two)

Fear Suspect In Dual Crime May Be Suicide

NORRISTOWN, Pa., July 17.—(INS)—Montgomery county authorities feared today that a 25-year-old war veteran, suspected of shooting his young estranged wife and her ex-GI escort, may have joined his alleged victims in death.

It was revealed that Kenneth Hanley, husband of the woman, left a note in his abandoned automobile that led police to believe he had taken his own life.

Hanley has been sought as the suspected slayer of his wife, Helen, 22, and her escort, John Hoffman, 26, as they sat in a parked car early yesterday morning.

Hoffman's dying words accused Hanley of shooting the woman and ex-GI.

Police said that their widespread manhunt for Hanley has thus far only brought discovery of his abandoned automobile in a wooded section in West Norristown.

Written in pencil on a used envelope the note was signed by "Kenneth Hanley" and said:
"Watch my kids please, Lady and Luke. I hope you understand. Couldn't let nobody have her." The car and note were found 15 hours after the slaying. The Hanleys had three small children.

Thousands Being Turned Back At Doors Of Colleges

By JACK WARD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
PITTSBURGH, July 17.—The road to higher learning will be blocked to thousands of Pennsylvania veterans next fall.

Pennsylvania colleges regretfully report that they will be forced to turn thousands of ex-servicemen from their doors.

Facilities will be overworked and living accommodations—although expanded—taxed to the limit as colleges and universities attempt to handle their full share of returning ex-GIs.

A "tidal wave" of applications for admission has literally swamped colleges throughout the state. But the overwhelming flood of veterans seeking a government-sponsored college education is more than the state's 74 accredited institutions can stand.

Thousands are being turned down because the colleges are already jammed to the doors. Instructors have been doing double duty ever since the rush began. Living accommodations were long ago filled to capacity.

Following is a survey made by International News Service of some of the larger schools:

Two More Soviet Officials Leave Posts In Canada

Reported Missing Following Report On Soviet Espionage In Canada

OTTAWA, July 17.—(INS)—Two more ranking Soviet officials are missing today from the Russian Embassy at Ottawa following publication of the Royal Investigating Commission report on Soviet espionage in Canada.

Ivan Krotov, listed by the commission as a Russian undercover agent, and Lieut. Vitali Pavlov, named as head of the Russian secret police operating in Canada, are reported to have left the Canadian capital hurriedly.

Whether they were summoned by Moscow or requested to leave by the Canadian government was uncertain. The Ottawa Soviet Embassy turned away inquiries and government circles declined to comment.

Departure of Krotov and Pavlov is believed to have completed the exodus of 17 embassy officials and employees named in the official charges.

Experiences While Held By Russians Told By U.S. Couple

(Warrant Officer Samuel L. Harrison of Harrah, Okla., and his wife, Helen, of San Antonio, Tex., went out to buy a dog in Berlin and stumbled into an international incident. Scientist Will Detonate Bomb In Bikini Test

Cornell University Physicist Named To Be "Trigger Man" In New Test

TARGET ARRAY IS INCREASED

ABOARD USS MT. McKinley, Bikini, July 17.—(INS)—A civilian scientist from Ithaca, N. Y., was chosen today to detonate the world's fifth atomic bomb in the underwater Bikini test scheduled for July 25.

Rear Adm. W. S. Parsons, technical director of operations, announced that Dr. Marshall Holloway, Cornell university physicist, will be "trigger man" for the radio-detected test.

Target Array Increased
At the same time Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy announced that the target array has been increased to a total of 87 ships—75 major vessels and 12 smaller craft.

Blandy also announced that the tentative time of the blast has been advanced from 8:30 a. m. to 8:35 a. m., July 25, Bikini time (1:35 p. m., July 24 PST).

The Operation Crossroads chief said the exact time of the detonation would depend on the weather and that the bomb could be exploded any time up until noon.

Blandy said that in the morning, with the lagoon at low tide, the shores of Bikini atoll would not take such great punishment from the huge waves expected to raise out of the blast center.

The admiral pointed out also that a morning explosion would leave more time to investigate the results during daylight hours.

Plan Showdown On Proposals For Uniting Germany

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(INS)—The United States today mapped plans for a showdown with Russia on the problem of restoring Germany to a key position in Europe.

Informed quarters made clear American concern over Russian moves to entice Germany to the Soviet sphere of influence.

In contradiction to the Russian moves, orders were sent out today to Lt. Gen. Lucius Clay, U. S. representative on the Allied Commission in Berlin, to accept any arrangement with the British and French which would integrate the economy of their respective areas in the Reich.

Britain Will Join
Britain was known to be glad to join its area with the United States. The position of France was regarded as doubtful. But experts believed that eventually France would join the U. S. and Britain in establishing an integrated German economy. This would relieve each nation of the responsibility of supporting its own zone at great cost and no return.

Secretary of State Byrnes was reported also to be hopeful that, in the end, Russia would join in this process of restoring Germany's (Continued on Page Two)

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(INS)—James N. (Jerry) Doyle, 47, assistant city editor of the Washington Times-Herald, died today as a result of burns received while asleep at his home.

Firemen said Doyle apparently had fallen asleep while smoking a cigarette.

The newspaperman is survived by an aunt, Miss Annie McCann, with whom he made his home and who is hospitalized from injuries received in a fall several weeks ago.

A native of Washington, Doyle had been employed by the Times-Herald since 1922.

Westminster Seeks To Find Out How Many Want To Go To College

Meeting Thursday Night To Reveal Actual Need For Local District

Afternoon And Night Classes Will Be Inaugurated If Need Is Revealed

Westminster College plans to take the public pulse Thursday night, regarding the extent of the desire for college education this year among the young people of this area.

Whether or not there is any real demand for the offering of additional opportunity for higher education will be learned at 8:00 o'clock p. m., Thursday, when a test "round up" will be held in the college chapel.

If there proves to be a sufficient number of prospective students interested to indicate that the problem is as serious as some educators feel that it is, Westminster will augment her staff, increase her facilities, and open her doors for afternoon and evening classes of commuters, beginning with the fall term which opens about the middle of September.

So far as has yet been indicated, or appears to be contemplated, this will be the only attempt made by (Continued on Page Two)

Compromise On OPA Measure Being Sought

Joint Conference Committee Meets Behind Closed Doors On Price Control Issues

TRUMAN'S VETO IS AGAIN FEARED

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(INS)—The fate of future price controls rests in the hands of 14 members of congress who were to meet today behind closed doors in an effort to fashion an OPA extension bill acceptable to President Truman.

They comprised the joint conference committee to which was turned over the task of reaching a compromise on restoration of price controls after the senate approved a bill which Mr. Truman stated "couldn't be any worse."

Difficult Assignment
The conference committee, composed of seven members each of the house and senate, was given the difficult assignment after the house rejected Tuesday, 211 to 64, the senate measure.

The administration is hopeful that the conferees—eight Democrats and six Republicans—will eliminate senate amendments barring future price controls on meat and dairy products, grain and cottonseed and soybean products.

Capitol Hill believed that if this were done, the president would sign the bill despite other features which the administration considered objectionable. The senate also decontrolled tobacco and petroleum products, but it was understood they were scheduled to be released from controls anyway.

Substitute For Resolution
The senate bill is a substitute for a house resolution which merely extended the old price control law, which expired June 30, until July 20. In its place, the senate passed legislation for a one-year continuation of OPA.

As the conferees prepared to (Continued on Page Two)

Acute Famine Period May End By Mid-August

CHICAGO, July 17.—(INS)—Former President Herbert Hoover predicted today that the acute famine period in Europe will be over by mid-August and forecast a great improvement in the world's food situation by the first of the year.

Hoover stopped off in Chicago en route to his Palo Alto, Cal., home after making a six-month tour of the world's food producing areas for President Truman. He said:

"Food supplies in Europe are now exhausted, but the acute period will be over by mid-August. Crop conditions all over the northern hemisphere are good, and planting has started under favorable conditions in the southern hemisphere.

The food situation in Europe will be tight for another year at least, but it will be nothing like we have had in the last six months.

And think of child November winds that sweep the stadium seats, and then go out in mid-July and laugh at summer's heat.

First Degree Will Be Asked In Heirens' Case

Attorneys For Chicago Youth Charge Violation Of Rights In "Truth Serum" Use

CHICAGO, July 17.—(INS)—Attorneys for William Heirens, 17-year-old boy suspect in three murders and 30 burglaries, today charged that the state had violated the youth's constitutional rights by giving him a "truth serum" test.

Heirens, an alleged Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde character, was given the test June 29, three days after his arrest when he was caught apartment prowling.

He was under the influence of the serum for two hours. Published reports that Heirens had made a full confession to three murders and a series of burglaries and assaults were denied by Heirens himself and his attorney, John Coghlan.

State's Attorney William Tuohy meanwhile announced that he would seek first degree murder indictments formally charging Heirens with the kidnap-killing of Suzanne Degnan and the lipstick murder of ex-WAVE Frances Brown.

Penalty, on conviction without a recommendation for mercy, would mean the electric chair for the young University of Chicago student.

Denies Plan To Plead

Coghlan, Heirens' lawyer, denied that he planned to plead Heirens' guilt in return for a life sentence. Coghlan explained:

"There is no reason for any plea at this time. The state's case is purely circumstantial and it is one which would be difficult to prove. They cannot use any information they obtained by use of the drug for this was in effect compelling Heirens to make statements against himself in violation of his constitutional rights."

"If the state brings murder charges and the case comes to a trial I will demand a hearing outside the presence of a jury on the use of the truth serum. It was illegal."

Thus, for the first time in criminal law history, in Chicago, and probably in the nation, use of a truth serum may become a controversial issue similar to one which arose for a long time over use of the lie detector.

Heirens, a University of Chicago student, told his jail cell guards during the day that he remembered taking the truth serum. But he told his guards:

"I didn't say anything. I didn't do it and I told them I didn't. I didn't say a word about the murders."

Doctors said it would be possible for Heirens to remember what he did say under the test. A stenographer's report was made of what Heirens said for the two hours he was under the influence of the drug, and the report is now locked in the safe of State's Attorney Tuohy.

EXPERIENCES WHILE HELD BY RUSSIANS TOLD BY U.S. COUPLE

tions, informing me I was in the Russian zone and had not been invited there—I should therefore answer them.

At the end of the questioning they took me to a damp, cold basement cell and locked me in.

About midnight they called me upstairs again where the English-speaking captain asked me the same questions over and over again.

They all laughed when I told them I came there to buy a dog. They also asked me whether as an American officer I did not know that Russian officers were being held by the Americans. I was getting very worried about my wife whom I had not seen since 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

All they would tell me was that she was being well taken care of.

Then they put me back down in that cellar and I tried to sleep on the wooden platform without blankets. I was held there all the next day. That night I asked for a blanket and they gave me two very filthy mattresses.

Pulled Mattress Over Him

I had to keep warm so I slept on one and pulled the other over me. About 1 a. m. on July third they took me back upstairs and put me in a small room with my wife. They also returned our personal belongings.

Helen told me that she had been kept in a room with a Russian soldier present the entire time as a guard.

At 3:30 a. m. they took us out of the building and put us into a car. Blankets were placed around the windows in the rear so we could not see where we were going.

We journeyed along rough roads for a while and stopped several times. We finally arrived at a house which I later learned was in Brandenburg, about 30 miles west of Berlin.

We were given a small room where we immediately went to sleep. We received nothing to eat until about 6 p. m.

Under Guard 11 Days

We remained in this room under close guard for 11 days.

The following Saturday night everybody in the house seemed drunk and we heard lots of yelling and loud talking.

Once a Russian lieutenant stuck his head in the door and said "Komo frau." (Come, woman!).

I said "Nein" and started to get out of bed. The officer then left.

Monday, July 8, I was questioned again but they were milder this time, and we were told we would be released very soon.

Monday night, July 15, a little before 10 p. m., a well-dressed Russian civilian came into the room and said simply "Go."

I asked "Home?" and he said: "Ten minutes."

Two officers then came and asked whether we had our belongings and took us out to another blanketed car.

We then were driven to Berlin and when we got out of the car the first thing we saw was the big two-star sedan of Maj. Gen. (Frank) Keating (U. S. commandant in Berlin).

We never were so glad to see anyone and Helen sobbed on General Keating's shoulder.

meet. Sen. Wherry of Neb., minority whip, expressed belief that they would not remove meat from the "free market." Wherry, who sponsored both the meat and dairy decontrol amendments, pointed to the wide margin by which the senate approved the meat provision. The vote was 49 to 26.

However, Rep. Barry (D) N. Y., a house conferee, declared that he would press for restoration of all ceilings on foods, rents and all other essential commodities. "except where it is definitely clear that supply has been caught up with demand," Barry termed it a "very dangerous experiment" to decontrol essential items now.

Rep. Spence (D) Ky., chairman of the house conferees, commented that "we're going to try to get a bill that will be acceptable to the house, to the senate and to the president."

He added:

"I think if we can get the decontrol provisions out, it will be a victory."

If the conferees are unable to reach agreement, the house members will ask their body for instructions. Should the house vote against the food decontrol amendments, it would greatly strengthen the administration's position.

WESTMINSTER TO FIND TO GO TO COLLEGE

the colleges in this particular district to take care of what has seemed, during the past months, to be an accumulating problem of decreasing educational opportunities.

Loaded as they are with work of their own campuses, short of staff, and realizing the practical impossibility of obtaining laboratory, library, and other supplies and equipment to establish off-campus centers, district colleges have sensed the impracticability of such procedure.

It was indicated at last week's meeting, held at Westminster, that in case of dire necessity and if not loaded too heavily at home, nearby colleges would be willing to loan Westminster a few teachers for afternoon work. A healthy spirit of cooperation among the colleges is evident, but there is a limit to what can be done properly, and none of our institutions are willing to go beyond whatever they feel themselves able to do with complete justice to the student.

Many people in educational and public circles, including Governor Martin, have expressed the fear that if we do not do something now we will create a "lost generation" of high school graduates who will be "cheated out of an education."

Many appeals have been made to the colleges and universities to expand their already bursting facilities, and to take all in all, the answer to the extent, in many cases, of almost doubling their normal capacities.

Westminster has made careful inventory of her situation, and feels that the present proposition of an afternoon session is her "last stretch." She now offers to run two shifts a day, if the demand is sufficient to pay the bills. Afternoon groups will receive the same attention, enjoy the same privileges, and cover the same full freshman year's work as the morning students.

Thursday night's answer to Westminster's offer will indicate whether or not the young people of this area feel that there is a need for any such additional opportunity in higher education in this part of the state, and may be taken as an indicator of the attitude of like areas in other parts of the state.

The former President declared that no grain has been taken away from the "foodstuff" principle to feed the starving peoples of the world to make beer and that every country in the food shortage area has prohibited the use of grain for the manufacture of beer.

An official communique on the executions is now being prepared.

Two co-defendants at Mikhailovitch's trial are now safe beyond Yugoslav's borders.

They had been sentenced to death in absentia by a military court sitting under the red-starred flag of Marshal Tito, present chief-of-state.

Mercy Appeal Rejected

Death was assured for the nine guerrilla chiefs when the president of the Yugoslav national assembly rejected a joint appeal for mercy.

Implementation of the death sentence on Mikhailovitch had been contested bitterly by groups of Allied airmen whose lives were saved by his Chetnik fighters.

(Hopes that Britain might seek clemency were blasted yesterday when Foreign Secretary Bevin told the house of commons his government thought it had "no right to intervene" in application of the "laws of a sovereign state.")

Former King Appeals

(In London) after former King Peter of Yugoslavia appealed to President Truman and other chiefs of Allied Nations to save Mikhailovitch's life. No action to that end was reported.)

Twenty-three persons in all were convicted at the historical trial just outside Belgrade. Those who received death penalties received prison terms ranging from 18 months to 20 years at hard labor.

The verdicts were roundly approved by Marshal Tito, who called defendants of Mikhailovitch part of "internal and international reaction."

He was drowned several days ago, and the body was recovered shortly afterwards. Mr. Sawl was reported missing several days ago by his wife, and word had been received of his whereabouts until it was learned that he had been drowned in New Cumberland.

Mr. Sawl was born Aug. 4, 1901, in Pittsburgh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sawl. He was employed as a chipper in the Cooper-Bessemer plant, Grove City, for some time. For the past 12 years he resided in this city, and had been married to Mrs. Melfa Sawl for 14 years. Mr. Sawl was a member of St. Vitus church.

In addition to his wife, he leaves a son, Ralph; and sisters: Mrs. Josephine Schavrine, Mrs. Julia Ross, of Forestville, and Margaret, of New York.

The body arrived at the DeCarbo funeral home, where friends may call any time after 7 o'clock this evening.

Funeral mass will be offered Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock, in St. Vitus church. Interment will be in St. Vitus cemetery.

TWO SECRETARIES TO TESTIFY IN SENATE PROBE

ager for the two firms, testified that he received one telephone call from the house military chairman.

He said that May at that time "chastised" him severely because he facetiously remarked that Joseph P. Freeman, Erie Basin-Batavia expediter, was "up in New York making money for us."

The congressman has been shown in testimony to have served as Kentucky agent for a lumber subsidiary of Batavia and to have endorsed checks totalling $18,000 for that firm, Cumberland Lumber company.

Sarelas said May had called asking for Freeman. Earlier, Freeman told the committee that May always "cooperated" when he asked the congressman to intercede at the war department for the two Illinois concerns.

Testimony Highlights

Highlights of other testimony as the public hearings neared a close included:

1. Sarelas' disclosure that he saw gifts for three generals from Batavia at the Washington office—one of them an "Elgin watch." He could not say whether they ever were delivered to the ordinance officers.

2. A statement by Albert W. Jacobson, ordinance legal consultant, that Murry W. Garsson, a co-procurer of the combine, offered him a $50,000-a-year job which "didn't tempt me in the least."

3. Jacobson, accused by the committee of drafting a "whitewash" report on the Garsson interests, said he thought the offer was made "facetiously."

4. Sarelas' recollection that he saw Rep. May at a dinner in the home of Col. Lowell Elliott, another procurer of office handling war contract relations with Erie Basin and Batavia.

5. Jacobson's admission that he twice visited the Erie Basin office to pick up "souvenir shells" given war department officials. He said one was for himself, the other for his boss, Col. John M. McGregor. Sarelas Mead (D) N. Y., chairman, and Ferguson (R) Mich., declined Jacobson's offer that they accept the shells as "reminders" of how he had been "persecuted" by the senate inquiry.

All signs pointed to the public hearing's closing without Rep. May appearing to testify under oath on his relations with Murray and Henry M. Garsson and the firms they welded into what Mead has called a "paper empire."

May has refused to appear unless permitted to cross-examine witnesses and subpoena records through his own counsel. The committee in turn has refused to grant him any "special privileges."

A decision on whether to subpoena the congressman is still pending.

Philadelphia—two to four times the number of veterans accepted have been rejected because "they could not be accommodated."

Penn State at State College—Only 4,900 students from applications totaling more than 8,000 will be admitted. Seventy-five per cent of these will be veterans.

University of Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh—Only one of every five applicants can be admitted. Total enrollment, including non-veterans, expected to reach almost 12,000.

Carnegie Institute of Technology at Pittsburgh—Only one in every 15 applicants is accepted in the school of engineering. One in every four in the school of arts.

Duquesne University at Pittsburgh—Will accept between 1,000 and 1,500 new students next fall depending on faculty increases. Many veterans are being refused admission.

Washington & Jefferson college at Washington—Expansion of facilities to handle 300 students more than normal enrollment not sufficient to take care of the number of applications.

Temple University at Philadelphia—More than 4,500 applications already refused because of space limitations.

Ex-servicemen with previous college experience have almost no trouble returning to their alma mater. Colleges reported that they accept previous students unqualifiedly, so they may continue their work toward a degree.

When will this mass movement back to the campus end?

Pitt's dean of men, Theodore W. Biddle, declared:

"We don't expect to pass the peak for three or four years yet. Before things begin to return to normal, the current freshmen class must graduate."

"These vets, for the most part, are determined to become college graduates, and the colleges are outdoing themselves trying to help them attain that goal."

SCIENTIST WILL DETONATE BOMB IN BIKINI TEST

the bomb did not come as a surprise since he has been identified with atomic research since the start of the Los Alamos, N. M., project.

Admiral Parsons said that Holloman would start a clock aboard the electronic ship Cumberland Sound which would set off a series of radio impulses which in 30 seconds will detonate the submerged bomb.

Parsons declared that special safeguards have been set up to prevent what he called any "well-prepared saboteur" to explode the bomb prematurely. The admiral pointed out that the transmission set and power-room aboard the Cumberland are under lock and key.

In addition, the admiral said, that a special clock, similar to a bank vault time device, has been placed on the barge to which the bomb will be moved. The time device will prevent the bomb from being detonated except during a certain period even if proper radio impulses are sent.

Parsons said the time device would "automatically" disarm the bomb if the test is delayed and thus allow personnel to re-enter the lagoon.

Can The SOAP SHORTAGE Get WORSE?

IT'S REALLY SERIOUS! The world-wide shortage of fats and oils to make soaps is desperate. We've got to depend on used fats from your kitchen, Mrs. Housewife! It's the only extra source we have . . .

Yes, it can—unless EVERY housewife gets back to saving Used Fats!

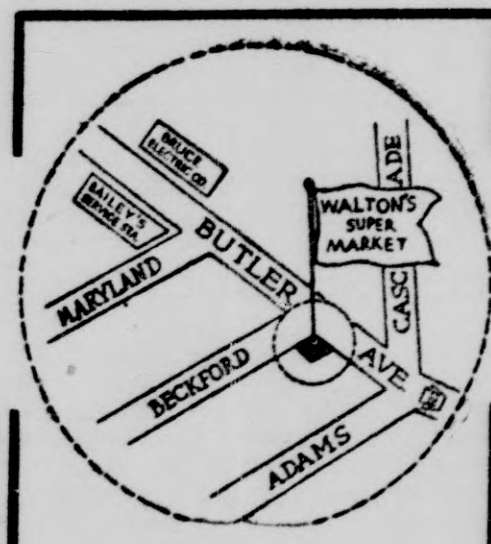

MORE USED FATS are needed! So get back in the habit of scraping and skimming. Tell your neighbor to do the same. Every drop is needed for soap and other peacetime goods.

NO RELIEF IN SIGHT

ITHICA, N. Y.—(INS)—A continued shortage of fats and oils for civilians for the rest of 1946 was reported today by the food information service of the State College of Agriculture. The actual supply is expected to average about 41 pounds per person compared with almost 42 and one half pounds in 1945. This reduction of about 15 per cent from the prewar average means that consumers must be thrifty with the available supply, the report said.

Busy Time Around Historic Fishing Town In Oregon

ASTORIA, Ore.—Trying to get folks in this historic fishing town to talk about world affairs right now is a tough task.

It isn't that they're not interested. They are. And they have plenty of opinions . . . about whether Jap fishermen should be permitted to infest American offshore waters again . . . about how any future Pacific regulations should pay more attention to the problems of the Pacific fisherman . . . about how Europe shouldn't be allowed to export fish products to the United States for sale when we're giving European countries, through UNRRA, such things as wheat and pork chops, free!

Lot Too Busy

But right now, they're all a little too busy to waste much time talking—for it's tuna tossing time again. And from mid-July until mid-October, Astoria fishermen will concentrate on catching the albacore, or white-fleshed, tuna which has congregated in large schools off the Pacific northwest coast each summer since the middle thirties.

But the method that they use hooks more like a farmer pitching hay than a fisherman at work. It is the result of some ten years of trial-and-error testing of tuna fishing methods—varying from jig to seining systems—and includes the use of live bait and iron fishing racks over the boatside . . .

The Mylark, skippered by W. E. Dugan, short, chunky fisherman of some 15 years experience, is typical of the tuna fleet now swinging into action.

A 50-foot dragboat with a 25-ton carrying capacity, the Mylark recently has been drag-fishing for rockfish, flounder and the like. Now, however, she's being rigged with the live-bait tank and fishing racks. Three more fishermen will be added to the drag-fish crew of three, and the Mylark will sail through the mouth of the Columbia river, some 50 miles out to sea.

Watch Blackbirds. "Then we start watching blackbirds," Dugan said. "They always hang around the tuna schools to get small fish the albacore are chasing to the surface."

Once a school is sighted, the Mylark will sail into the middle of it, dumping onboard live anchovies by the netful from the live-bait tank.

Then the fishermen, specialists all, stand in the iron racks over the Mylark's side, and "start pitching". Each has a ten-foot bamboo pole with a six-foot line—and they actually disengage the fish from the barbless hook while still in the air!

"We have to do that for speed," Dugan said. "The school may not stay with us more than a couple of minutes, and you have to learn how to snap the hook out in the air so the fish will land on the deck behind you—while you're going after another one."

This would not be possible, were it not for the fact that the albacore, while feeding, is a pretty foolish sort of fish. It will bite at anything flashing. Formerly, the tuna fishermen used only bare, bright hooks, but now they use leather lures to speed the biting.

Even so the Mylark may be forced to remain at sea anywhere from three to 15 days in order to get a full catch. When the tuna-boat returns with a load, the split-up comes. First of all, expenses come "off the top". Then, 40 per cent of the take goes to the boat, with the skipper and crew splitting the remainder.

If the skipper owns the boat, usually he gets only one crewman's share of the split after the 40 per cent bonus of the gross catch payment, prior to expense deductions.

If it's a good albacore season, the average tuna-pitcher or crewman can make from $5,000 to $6,000, varying according to price. Dugan said during 1944, the top tuna year, crewmen averaged about $2,000.

Which is eight thousand good reasons why Astoria fishermen are too busy tuning up for the tuna season to waste time talking of world affairs. Time enough for that in the fall!

To repulse the hordes of Kublai Khan, the Chinese used rockets in 1233.

Plan Recruiting 50,000 Reserves For 11th Air Force

MIDDLETOWN, Pa., July 17.—(INS)—The Eleventh Air Force today announced plans for recruiting more than 50,000 pilots and ground crewmen for air force reserve and national guard units.

Pilots will fly every type of aircraft from the P-80 Shooting Star to the B-29 Super Fortresses. Big Gen. Thomas J. Banley, Jr., commander, said the campaign would be launched throughout the Eleventh Air Force area embracing Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, Maryland and the District of Columbia. The force has headquarters at Olmsted Field near Middletown.

Training will be offered at 18 bases each equipped to handle approximately 600 officers and men. Hanley said.

Brig. Gen. Herbert B. Thatcher, chief of staff, said most flying training would be confined to AT-6, AT-11 and P-47 aircraft.

Typhoid Fever Death Rate Drops

Huge Drop Since Turn Of Century Is Shown By Statistical Reports In U. S.

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 17.—The typhoid fever death rate in the United States has dropped 99 per cent since the turn of the century, report the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company. In 1900 the typhoid death rate was more than 30 per 100,000, whereas in 1944 it was down to 0.4.

The statisticians point out that brilliant progress has also been made in reducing the number of typhoid fever cases. Whereas only ten years ago there were well over 20,000 cases a year, there are now only about 5,000 annually, a decrease of 75 per cent.

Typhoid fever has been conquered by a variety of measures such as the installation of sewer systems, the supervision of typhoid carriers, the inspection of food supplies, the examination of food handlers, anti-typhoid inoculation, the adoption of central water supplies, and above all, filtration and chlorination of these supplies.

"Further progress toward the goal of eliminating typhoid fever completely," the statisticians say, "will depend largely upon the success achieved in the south and southwest, where the problem is now largely concentrated."

County Traffic Deaths Increase

During the first five months of 1946 Lawrence county showed an increase of three deaths due to traffic accidents over the figures of the previous year.

Totals showed three rural deaths so far this year and none for 1945. Urban fatalities were the same as in the 1945 span—four.

Balancing the toll somewhat was a slight decrease in pedestrian deaths during the same period. Two city fatalities were reported, against a total of four for 1945.

Georgia Voters At Polls Today

Hot Four-Cornered Race For Governorship Of State Voted On Today

ATLANTA, Ga., July 17.—(INS)—Georgia went to the polls today in a Democratic primary dominated by the hip-and-tuck gubernatorial race. Observers predicted a garrison finish between two of the candidates in the four-corner races.

Eugene Talmadge, three times governor, and James S. Carmichael, young Marietta attorney, generally were considered the men to beat. Talmadge, red-gallused proponent of "white supremacy", pegged his platform on a promise to eliminate negroes from participation in future Democratic elections.

Red Hot Race

Carmichael, war-time head of the lumber plant at Marietta, stumped the state in a campaign for "clean government". He entered the race as a political neophyte, but with the blessings of Gov. Ellis Arnall as the man to carry on Arnall's policies.

The "dark horse" was Euth Dickerson Rivers, twice governor before, who promised to resurrect his "little New Deal".

The fourth candidate was Hoke Kellie, veteran of two world wars and a perennial secker of the governorship.

Congregationalists To Picnic Saturday

Members of the First Congregational church and Sunday school will have their annual picnic on Saturday, July 20, at Stoughton's Beach.

Buses will leave the church at 9:30 a. m. Chairman of the committee of arrangements is John E. Matthews.

Gen. Devers Says Plan Only Way To Neutralize Attack: Sees
U. S. As Target

NEW YORK, July 17.—(INS)—Gen. Jacob L. Devers, commander of the army ground forces, said Tuesday that the only way to neutralize any future rocket attack on the United States would be to seize launching sites.

Devers, addressing the Sales Executive club of New York, argued that in any future war the United States would be the first nation to be subjected to rocket attack.

He pointed out that German V-2 attacks on England did not stop until the launching sites were captured and that in any rocket or guided missile war, victory would come only "when our infantrymen capture or destroy the enemy and occupies the captured territory."

Devers declared that strong armed forces were necessary now for peace. He added:

"But if we possess proper national security, we can defy attack. And if the United States can remain at peace until the United Nations is sufficiently strong to demonstrate the ability to keep the peace, the world can remain at peace."

He declared that the armed forces had a sales problem. He said: "It is the problem of selling a product called peace. Not peace in our time, but peace for all time... we have some pretty strong competition to face."

"There are two brands of peace on the counters of the world—and our brand is meeting with stubborn sales resistance in some quarters."

Cabbie Outwits Youth In Holdup

NEW YORK, July 17.—(INS)—When Michael Kuzusko, 17-year-old merchant seaman decides to stage a hold-up, he'd better get a map of New York City.

He hailed a cab operated by Rudolph Blacket, Saturday, and asked to be taken to an address in uptown Manhattan. Just before reaching that point, the cab driver felt a cold object against his neck. Blacket told the youth: "I only have $20."

Kuzusko demanded it, but added: "Give me your name and address and I'll send this dough back later. I need it now."

The driver complied. Kuzusko then told him to drive to "Central Park West, any part."

But Blacket drove up in front of a police station far from Central Park West, and when the youth attempted to leave the cab, the driver held the door closed and shouted for police.

The youth was seized by a patrolman and charged with violation of a New York state law prohibiting possession of deadly weapons. His weapon—a wood chisel.

Clark Declares Soviet Lagging In Oil Shipments

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(INS)—Gen. Mark Clark, U. S. commander in Austria, complained to the war department today that Russia has failed to make scheduled deliveries of petroleum products to the American occupation zone.

In protesting against Russia's failure to make petroleum deliveries, Clark asserted:

"A critical situation has arisen in the U. S. zone of Austria as a result of failure and continued uncertainty of Soviet deliveries of indigenous petroleum products, upon which Austria has become dependent since May with the exception of gasoline."

Clark also told the joint chiefs of staff in his monthly report that "the general (Austrian) food situation continued critical in all aspects" despite contributions from U. S. military stocks of 18,100 tons of food.

Canada was discovered in 1497 by the English navigator, John Cabot.

Bucharest Holds Old Time Vintage

Musical Comedy Atmosphere Persists Despite Presence Of Stalin's Troopers

BUCHAREST, July 12.—(Delayed)—(INS)—Visitors of prewar vintage find Romania's capital today still the same old "never-never" land where tinselled army officers look like something out of "Opera Bouffe."

The musical comedy atmosphere persists, somehow, despite the menacing presence of Premier Stalin's tough troopers.

Captive bears still dance in the streets, where now are seen scores of ragged, be-medalled Romanian amputees. Veterans even rattle tin cups outside well-stocked, smartly appointed restaurants.

Bucharest has night clubs galore, and roulette wheels. Traditional corruption remains part of the modern gypsy picture in which politics is something the cat dragged in.

King Michael's country was largely spared the ravages of war, and is paying reparations to Russia in gasoline and oil instead of manufactured products. This has its advantages.

Romania Is Confident
Diplomats feel that if the Paris conference produces peace treaties for Axis satellites, Romania will be almost back on its prewar level—except that the Red army might hang around for some time.

Premier Petru Groza is relying increasingly on the Russian secret police (the N.K.V.D.) to secure his grip on the country, but wily old Julius Maniu is still master of the peasants and is rapidly gaining political influence.

Diplomatic informants say that N.K.V.D. and Romania's own secret police are responsible for a recent rash of arrests and "disappearances" in Bucharest.

Although Groza has not displayed eagerness to stage a general election in September, the same sources say everything possible is being done by thousands of government ward heelers to "persuade" voters into the communist camp.

The Soviets have admittedly cornered everything from oil to industry in Romania, but King Michael is said to have out-smarted the Russians by cultivating his popularity with the masses—which display an undisguised dislike of the Reds.

Michael has even ordered his royal guards to maintain their colorful white uniforms and burnished helmets as a reminder to the Russians that they are uninvited landlords.

People's Court In Philippines Starts Action

MANILA, July 17.—(INS)—The Philippine people's court today began consideration of a motion to dismiss all pending collaboration and treason cases which grew out of the war.

The motion was made by senate majority leader Vicente Francisco, who is currently defending Hilario Moncada, a candidate for president in the last election.

Francisco contends that war crimes were against the United States or the commonwealth government and that since the attainment of independence, the courts of the new republic lack jurisdiction in such cases.

President Manuel Roxas has not signified his attitude toward war crimes suspects although leaders of his own party openly advocate dropping all collaboration charges.

In court, Senator Francisco cited as a precedent the amnesty granted Filipinos who collaborated with the Spanish during the Spanish-American war.

"SHELL-SHOCK" CASES DROPPED

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(INS)—The army surgeon general's office reported Tuesday that hysteria cases—called "shell-shock" in the first World War—persisted on a greatly diminished scale during World War II.

A study just completed by the army reveals that about one of every five neuropsychiatric cases returned from overseas was a victim of hysteria. More than 1,000 neuropsychiatric cases were treated by medical authorities during the war. The study concluded:

"It is evident that hysteria was not of infrequent occurrence in World War II."

Pittsburgh Car Dealers Inflate Used Auto Prices

PITTSBURGH, July 17.—(INS)—If you want to buy a used car—and you haven't a lot of extra cash—stay away from Pittsburgh.

A survey showed that some dealers have raised the prices on used models from $200 to $400—when they have automobiles to sell.

In one lot, for example, a Chrysler convertible sedan, 1941 vintage, was tagged at $2,200. The old O. P. A. ceiling was $1,465 for the same model, sans radio and heater.

The reliable used car dealers, the survey showed, have been trying to "hold the line" in prices, but many of the fly-by-night concerns, which entered the field just recently, have been the ones guilty of raising prices.

Car dealers were not very optimistic about the delivery of new cars. On Packard dealer reported he was forced to cancel a backlog of 200 orders because he couldn't guarantee delivery. A Chevrolet dealer said he quit taking orders for new models two months ago and an Oldsmobile dealer indicated it would be next year before he could start taking new orders.

"TENANTS" UNION

PHILADELPHIA, July 16.—(INS)—Something new in the form of a union made its appearance today in Philadelphia—a "tenants" union.

The group was formed by nearly 200 apartment dwellers to bargain collectively with a landlord who is reported to have raised their rents 40 to 80 per cent since the demise of the OPA.

The group is tagged the Tenants' Association Against Rent Profiteering, and its objective is to negotiate with Samuel Eisart, who controls more than 600 living units in the city.

Lt. Col. Miller Of Salvation Army Is Speaker Tuesday

Addresses Lions Club On The Ideal Lion At Luncheon Meeting In The Castleton

Lt. Col. Ralph T. Miller, division commander of the Salvation Army, was the guest speaker of the Lions club at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Tuesday noon, delivering a splendid address on "The Ideal Lion".

Lt. Col. Miller was accompanied by Capt. Thelma Dundon, in charge of Salvation Army activities here, and her assistant, Lt. Cathryn Goudy, who recently graduated from the Salvation Army training school, and has been assigned here, succeeding Lt. Verne.

In depicting the ideal Lion, Lt. Col. Miller stated that he had become acquainted, when still a young man, with a man in Kingston, N. Y., whom he considered the ideal service club member.

His example, he stated, had made a tremendous impression upon him, and he urged each Lion club member to remember that one can be a great influence, either for good or bad, on the young people of his community.

Although he probably was not aware of the fact, this man, a county judge and a brilliant orator, was humble. He was also sensitive. He had a sensitive eye, and seemed to take in everything. He knew people and recognized them. He had a sensitive ear, and listened to their troubles, and he had a sensitive heart, doing good wherever he could.

He urged the members of the Lions club to be sensitive to what is going on about them and to do their assignments with a sensitive eye, ear and heart.

Mr. Miller presented Arthur Meek, Tail Twister of the local club, and Dick Wilson, Tail Twister of the Ellwood City club, with official Tail Twister regalia, which turned out to be a red coat with white trimmings which could be both seen and heard, and which must be worn by the Tail Twister on all official occasions.

Other guests of the club included President Harry F. Zeigler of the Ellwood City Lions club and George L. Haver of McKeesport.

Anthony Chirazzi Of Police Force, New York, Speaks On 'Crime Delinquency'

Anthony Chirazzi, retired policeman of the force in New York City, was speaker Tuesday evening at the dinner-meeting of the Wolves club at The Castleton.

Mr. Chirazzi, who was a policeman for 22 years, spoke on Crime and Juvenile Delinquency. He told of his many interesting experiences while on the force, and stated that 65 per cent of the crimes are committed by juveniles. Mr. Chirazzi worked with Gov. Thomas Dewey, who was then prosecutor, and the former Mayor LaGuardia. He also helped to quell riots in New York. Mr. Chirazzi left this city 28 years ago. He is now affiliated with the highway department.

The speaker was introduced by William DeCarbo, program chairman.

Two new members were welcomed, Frank B. Cozza and John A. Volpe. Angelo Frediani, chairman of the Italy relief drive, announced that the clothes gathered, which exceeded two tons, are being packed, ready to be shipped.

A. N. Carbon gave the financial report and stated that a total of $2859.84 was received. From that amount $25.74 was used to purchase 526 pairs of new shoes.

William DeCarbo announced the annual picnic on July 28 at Lake-wood. The event will be a basket picnic and the fruit and refreshments will be served by the club.

A discussion took place on organizing a women's auxiliary, and further plans will be made.

August 6 is the date of the next meeting.

National Guard Can Enlist Men Of Draft Ages

Those Accepted For Service In National Guard Are Exempt From Other Duty

In a recent statement issued at Harrisburg, attention has been called to the fact that under the Selective Service, all officers and enlist men of the Federally-organized National Guard are placed in Class I-C, which means they are exempt from call for military duty under the Selective Service Act. It was announced today by Lt. Col. George F. Mitchell, in command of the National Guard units here.

This means that any man who has been accepted and whose papers have been completed in the National Guard will be presumptively exempt from service in any other branch of the U. S. forces, even though the unit has not had an opportunity to be presented for Federal recognition as yet.

Headquarters and Service Batteries, and the Medical Detachment, of the 229th P. H. Bn., located here, are now recruiting at Cunningham Armory.

Anyone interested may contact these officers at the Armory at these hours. Skilled men are needed for places as radio operators and technicians, motor mechanics, drivers, instrument, and survey men.

English Ladies, White House Set In Accord On Hats

Women Of Official London, Washington, Agree Garden Party Hats Not Necessary

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(INS)—The White House and Buckingham Palace may be oceans apart on the subject of knee breeches but when it comes to hats at garden parties they see eye to eye.

Just a week ago today, Miss Grace Colman, lady Laborite member of Parliament, was reported to have refused to attend a garden party at Buckingham Palace because she understood that etiquette demanded that she wear a hat.

Miss Colman was quoted as complaining about the "absurd and outworn" convention and stayed away from the party. She later learned that Mrs. George Kindren, wife of the Parliamentary secretary to the Ministry of National Insurance, had gone to the Palace hatless and had had a fine time.

Mrs. Truman's Party
 Well, Mrs. Harry S. Truman has just had herself a garden party.

Perhaps three-quarters of the estimated 650 ladies present—members of the War Hospitality committee—held on to their hats.

The rest let their fanciest hairdos speak for themselves and no one raised an eyebrow or a tongue.

Mrs. Truman herself wore no hat. She looked very attractive in a short pink-and-black sheer print frock with graceful, loose sleeves.

The other women also wore short dresses and most of them favored cool prints. Very few wore the sophisticated black favored by the fashion magazines.

The guests who wore hats inclined mostly toward huss cartwheels in black or natural straw.

A minority group carefully balanced a clip of roses or a fringed ribbon arrangement on its collective forehead.

The ladies who agreed with Miss Colman that a hat is a superfluous touch of gold on the hip compensated for the lack of "hds" with a cascade of curls piled on top of their heads.

Oh yes—President Truman came to the garden party, too.

Nope. He didn't wear a hat.

B. & O. Derailments Being Investigated

YOUNGSTOWN, July 17.—With investigations underway in three other Baltimore & Ohio railroad wrecks in the district, a fourth was listed as a B&O freight was derailed on a crossover near Newton Falls. One car fell the rails and tied up the tracks so that main-line passenger trains were delayed.

A week ago considerable damage resulted when 41 cars of ore piled up west of Newton Falls and tied up sections of the line for two days. Officials are investigating that accident.

Before that, a derailment near McDonald wrecked a freight train on June 12.

Student-Teachers Will Be Employed On Full Time Basis

New Ruling, Effective During 1946-47 Term, To Counterbalance Teacher Lack

HARRISBURG, July 17.—(INS)—The department of public instruction announced Tuesday that school districts will be permitted to employ student-teachers on a full time basis during the 1946-47 term.

The ruling, aimed at counterbalancing a shortage of 3,000 teachers, was prompted by a decline in the number of teachers holding wartime emergency certificates and tardiness of former service men and women in returning to their classrooms, according to Dr. Henry Klonover, director of teacher education and certification.

He predicted 1,000 college seniors could be obtained from 59 accredited colleges. The remainder of the vacancies would be filled by substitute instructors certified to teach for brief periods during the shortage, he added.

Students assigned to teaching posts would be entitled to salaries customarily paid graduates, Klonover explained, but they would remain under the supervision of colleges.

On Trial in 1942

The system was placed on trial in 1942, but was thrown out of gear by the high labor demands of war industries and depleted student enrollments, Klonover stated.

He predicted some emergency arrangement for replacing qualified instructors would be necessary during the next five years until a normal, adequate supply of teachers was reached.

Only 600 of 4,000 teachers enlisting in the armed services during the war had resumed old posts while approximately one-fifth of the 5,000 emergency certified instructors had resigned, Klonover pointed out.

"Many veterans are seeking additional education under the G. I. Bill of Rights," he explained, "and many veterans' wives are returning to their homes."

The greatest turnover was noted in elementary, art, music, science and vocational education fields, Klonover reported.

Guard Officers Will Go To Camp

HARRISBURG, July 17.—(INS)—Commissioned and key non-commissioned officers of the Pennsylvania National Guard were scheduled to begin a three-day encampment September 14 at the Indian-town Gap Military Reservation.

Approximately 1,500 men were expected to attend the orientation period, it was reported at headquarters. Sessions will be marked by discussions of peacetime reorganization and plans for recruiting an initial force of 27,000 officers and men, it was added.

The return of colors carried into battle by the division during the last war will highlight the encampment.

No extensive field training for troops was contemplated before next summer, it was reported.

Two New Castle motorists lost their operator's licenses during the week ending July 5 according to the latest figures released by the bureau of highway safety in Harrisburg.

Privileges to drive again were restored to 312 drivers, with one New Castle motorist in that total.

Launching Move To Oust Franco Before September

Exiled Government, Military Monarchists May Meet Compromise To Abolish Leader

PARIS, July 17.—(INS)—The Spanish Republican government in exile opened the door Tuesday to a compromise with military Monarchists in a determined bid to oust Generalissimo Franco's government before September.

(A United Nations Security Council subcommittee, after investigating charges against Franco, recommended that the U. N. General Assembly call for a mass diplomatic break with Spain if Franco is still in power when the world organization meets in September. This recommendation was not carried by the council.)

Following a secret five-hour meeting of top leaders of the exile government, a spokesman declared that Premier Jose Giral's government remained determined that no new authority shall be imposed upon Spain without a mandate of the Spanish people.

The spokesman added, though: "Our government is willing, however, for any group to replace Franco for the transition period until general elections can be held."

Continuing the spokesman said a compromise might be effected with Franco's generals with the Duke of Alba as leader of the Monarchists, or with the Socialist leader, Indalecio Prieto who now is in Mexico.

Leaders of the Giral government were said to be in unanimous agreement that "no permanent regime can supplant Franco until the people express the national will in a plebiscite," the spokesman added.

He said the real hope among the Republican leaders now is that "something will happen" to replace the Franco Regime before the September convention of the United Nations Assembly.

Voluntary Rent Control Urged

HARRISBURG, July 17.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Real Estate Association Tuesday renewed its plea for voluntary rent control.

Philip N. Arnold, 123 South Broad street, Philadelphia, chairman of the rent control study committee, suggested local groups arbitrate proposed rent boosts. He urged them to utilize the pressure of public opinion to discourage unjustifiable rent increases.

"Reactors of the state of Pennsylvania are most anxious to see the rental and sale market stabilized," Arnold declared.

Hold Slayer Of Michigan Child

Marion Karas, 27, Jailed In Strangle-Slaying Of Seven-Year Old Girl

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., July 17.—(INS)—Marion Karas, 27, was held in jail at Michigan City today in connection with the strangle-slaying of a 7-year-old girl, Dayda Lisak, whose nude body was discovered in a secluded wooded area southeast of the city.

Police said Karas led them to the scene last night after he had been arrested at his Michigan City home and confessed killing the little girl. He was taken into custody after the Lisak girl disappeared yesterday afternoon while playing hide-and-seek with a group of other girls on a Lake Michigan beach.

No Motive Advanced
Dayda, who was clad in a bathing suit, climbed a sand dune to hide. That was the last her companions saw of her.

Later one of the girl's playmates recalled seeing a man with a motorcycle in the vicinity and another girl told police she saw Dayda riding in a box in front of a motorcycle operated by a man who resembled Karas.

Police traced Karas to his home and said they found he had just painted his motorcycle black.

The girl's body was found underneath a wooden box in an area bordered by a creek. It was five miles from where she had last been seen alive.

Police said Karas gave no motive for his act.

Dayda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lisak, is survived by her twin brother Daniel, and two other brothers, besides her parents.

State Building At Pittsburgh Urged

PITTSBURGH, July 17.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin today proposed the erection of a modern state office building in Pittsburgh.

"On many occasions when I come here I cannot find a place to make my headquarters to discuss state business. I believe a state building should have an office here for the governor."

A similar building is contemplated for Philadelphia, according to the governor.

Probing Cause Of Steel Plant Fire In Carnegie

CARNEGIE, Pa., July 17.—(INS)—An investigation was underway in Carnegie today to determine the cause of a fire which resulted in damage of $400,000 to a huge steel fabricating plant at nearby Rosslyn Station.

The blaze was discovered by Andy Rabatin, a night watchman. He reported the fire burning in a pile of stored lumber. Other reports stated that huge clouds of yellow smoke were pouring from the corrugated steel structure following a muffled explosion.

Claims Agreement Of Nations Won't Quell Atom Threat

Senator McMahon Says World-Wide
Atomic Arms Race Already Well Under Way

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(INS)—Sen. Brien McMahon (D) Conn. declared Tuesday on the atom bomb's first anniversary that this nation should stop believing that international atomic energy agreements will provide absolutely security.

McMahon, chairman of the Senate Atomic Committee, made the statement at the Institute on World Control of Atomic Energy. W. A. Higginbotham, chairman of the Federation of Atomic Scientists told the institute that a world-wide "atomic arms race is already well underway."

The two-day forum which ends today is participated in by leading scientists and representatives of government, industry and civic groups.

McMahon maintained further that should the United States launch a program of atomic warfare, "in the long run it might be no more successful than was that of Hitler and the German general staff."

International Control
In dismissing this plan as a means of security, McMahon said that the only other known way of protecting the nation against atomic warfare is through some form of international control.

McMahon, author of atomic control legislation, bearing his name, declared:

"We should stop deluding ourselves that there can ever be absolute security through international agreement. So long as men remain human, there will always be the possibility that someone, somewhere, may at some time develop an ambition to conquer us."

The senator remarked that birth of the atomic era a year ago in New Mexico could not be called a "happy birthday."

Arab-Zionist Tension Mounts

Palestine's Jewry Goes On General
Strike Against Detention
Of Zionists

JERUSALEM, July 17.—(INS)—All Jewish shops and factories were closed today and transport services halted as Palestine's Jewry went on a general strike against continued detention of Zionists at the Latrun and Rafa camps.

Most of Palestine's 600,000 Jews remained indoors voluntarily as Arab-Zionist tension mounted.

The Palestine Arab higher committee, meanwhile, set up a central committee to direct industrial, social, cultural and professional phases of an anti-Jewish boycott.

The new committee was instructed to carry out resolutions adopted by the Arab league at its recent meeting at Bludan. Sub-committees will be set up shortly to deal with "boycott breakers."

The Jewish strike is scheduled to operate for one day. It was called to hasten the release of detainees at the camps.

(The British Broadcasting Company reported that more than 2000 Jews in two detention camps are on a hunger strike.)

Good Taste

By Francine Markel

WHEN YOU FORGET
SOMEONE'S NAME

"What is the correct procedure when I do not remember the name of a person to whom I have been introduced and with whom I engage in conversation later in the evening? (2) Is it proper to meet you? (3) What reply should be made to the parting remark: 'I am very pleased to have met you?'"

Answer: Try to avoid any reference to her name and perhaps someone will come to your rescue before long.

Listen carefully when introduced so that you will not be faced with this embarrassing problem. Do not, in desperation, guess at her name. If you are forced to refer to it and you cannot discover through someone else what it is, say: "I'm sorry but I did not hear your name distinctly." Do not brusquely ask: "What is your name?"

(2) No. "How do you do" is the generally accepted acknowledgment of an introduction.

(3) "Thank you" is sufficient or you may add "And I am very pleased to have met you."

Question: In presenting corsages at a shower, should I give them to the honor guests upon their arrival or should they be put on the dining table at each one's place?

Answer: They may be presented either when the guests arrive or they may be put at the guests' places at the table. The latter is the usual custom.

PREVENT LOSSES FROM GRAIN WEEVIL

With grain supplies very short and the price high, and considering the need for human and animal food, it is important that every pound of grain be saved.

One source of loss which can be controlled is that caused by insects attacking stored grain. The best control consists of preventing the insects from reaching the grain.

Several steps are suggested: 1. Clean all bins and granaries thoroughly. 2. If weevils have been present, spray the bins with a dormant tree spray oil mixture. 3. Use only clean sacks when handling grain. 4. If insects are found in grain, fumigate promptly.

Methods of spraying and fumigating are described in a leaflet which may be obtained from the Agricultural Extension Office, 206 Post Office building. Fumigation must be done during the summer months to be effective.

Avalon Boy Is Fatally Burned

PITTSBURGH, July 17.—(INS)—A five-year-old Avalon boy was dead today and another was in critical condition in Suburban General hospital from burns.

John W. Roberts, died and his playmate, Billy Scott, 5, was reported suffering third-degree burns. The coroner's office reported the boys' clothing caught fire while they were watching Billy's father, William Scott, burn out ant-hills in his yard with a blow torch.

Scott was badly burned on the hands while tearing off the boys' burning clothing.

Long Strike Seen Of City Workers At McKeesport

McKEESPORT, Pa., July 17.—(INS)—McKeesport was locked in a strike for a second day today as 155 municipal workers prepared for a long fight over wage demands despite the council's cry that the "city was broke."

Picket lines were thrown around two city garages, the garbage inclinator and other municipal installations. Fire and police protection was assured. Officials of the CIO-United Public Workers promised Mayor Charles A. Kinkaid that the strike would not affect the water pumping station.

Mayor Kinkaid meanwhile, said that city officials were making plans to resume normal service for the city's 60,000 residents as soon as possible.

The mayor estimated it would cost McKeesport $90,000 for the remainder of the year if the workers are granted an 18 1/2 cent an hour pay increase.

Public School Enrollments In State To Spurt

HARRISBURG, July 17.—(INS)—Public school enrollments this fall were expected today by the department of public instruction to exceed the estimated 1,520,000 students in classrooms at the end of the 1945-46 term.

He was unable to forecast the extent of the expected enrollment increase and pointed out that September employment conditions would determine whether youths now working would return to classrooms.

When the 1944-45 school term ended, 1,540,000 youths were attending classes compared with 1,813,000 at the same time in 1941.

The number of students who halted their education to accept work last year totaled 73,190 in comparison with 109,177 in 1943, the spokesman reported.

In addition, 96,354 special permits for students to accept "part time work" were issued last year, a decrease of approximately 5000 compared with 1944.

New Record

In 1945, for the first time in three years, the more than 79,000 students who were graduated from high schools exceeded those who quit school to obtain employment, the spokesman explained. Statistics on 1946 high school graduations have not been tallied.

Under the law, 16 and 17-year-old youths may stop school to secure work provided they obtain their parents' consent. Sixteen-year-olds who lose jobs must return to school until their 17th birthday.

The spokesman was unable to report how many children were expected to enter first grade classes this year but explained that 137,922 children were enrolled for the 1945-46 term.

First year enrollments have steadily decreased from 210,925 for the 1931-32 school term, he added.

A campaign similar to the drive staged last year urging youths holding jobs to return to school has been discussed by department officials but no decision has been reached, it was explained.

You're Telling Me

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Writer

Who can remember when Washington was concerned about keeping prices up?

Those were the days when price told us what a commodity was worth. Now it tells us what the traffic will bear.

When the price of a turkey can go to 100 bucks—don't blame Mike Jacobs.

He's no worse than some of the restaurants that are serving meals without food.

Neatest trick of the inflation era is seeing the blueplate design through the $1.50 luncheon.

Pennies, nickels and dimes have become excess baggage. What this country needs is a good 18-cent piece.

Money is secondary to everyone these days. Even John L. Lewis finds he's better off bargaining for his miners' health.

There are now 20 different makes of American motor cars. However, Grandpappy Jenkins, who has been trying to buy one for months, says this must be only hearsay.

Teardrop Ships Seen As Design For Future Navy

Abolition Of Vertical Lines Seen In Design Of Ships Of Atomic Age Navy

BIKINI LAGOON, July 17.—(INS)—Teardrop-shaped warships for the future were foreseen today by a high crossroads operation officer as a development of the atomic age.

Vertical lines in ship design probably will disappear. Naval construction drawing boards will reflect more and more the streamlined patterns of the plane and automobile makers.

Top officials of the atomic test task force will not comment for publication on what changes may result from the tests; that is a matter for the experts of the bureau of ships to determine.

But the feeling among them is that sharp design changes are coming—perhaps without too much regard for the extent of damage caused by the atomic bomb.

They pointed out that regardless of whether the atomic weapon ever will be used extensively against such dispersed targets as naval vessels, the same streamlined designs needed for atomic bomb defense also are needed to make ships less vulnerable to rocket shells and other air attacks.

Atomic bomb damage caused by the overhead burst already is an eloquent argument for scrapping insofar as possible the superstructure of warships. It was the superstructure—masts, rigging, stacks and other above-deck parts—that suffered the major damage in the first test.

Even at a considerable distance from the burst there was "topside" damage, while below decks there was virtually none. Heavy superstructure parts, of tough steel, were sheared away, warped, twisted and wrecked.

Honest Truckers Needn't Fear War On Weight Rackets

HARRISBURG, July 17.—(INS)—Secretary of Internal Affairs William S. Livingston Jr. emphasized today that "honest coal truckers" need not fear the campaign against short-weight racketeers.

"Our drive against short-weight racketeers is as much in the interest of honest truckers as it is for the protection of the consumer," Livingston said in a letter to Stanley H. Stutz, president of Shamokin Truckers' association.

"The trucker who presents a weight certificate bearing the seal of the department has taken the first step toward assuring both his customers and inquiring officers that he is delivering honest weight," Livingston added.

He disclosed that five truckers have been prosecuted in the campaign including Irvin Latcha, of Sunbury, who paid a $300 fine on charges of changing weights on certificates.

In addition, Latcha paid a $600 fine and made restoration of seven and one-half tons of coal after being prosecuted on three charges of violating the City of York's coal ordinance.

Other truckers fined were: John M. Hassler, Shamokin, $150; H. Edward Collier, Loyalton, $25; Carroll J. Baker, Shamokin, $50; and A. Sugars, Harrisburg, $25.

New Artificial Limb To Greatly Aid Legless Vets

'Suction-Vacuum' Type, Discovered By Pittsburgher, Far Superior To Others

PITTSBURGH, July 17.—(INS)—Legless veterans soon will be able to stride along with the best of hikers, because of a new device developed by a German-born Pittsburgh man.

Laurence Porten, head of an artificial limb company, has made and proved successful a "suction-vacuum" type limb far superior to older types.

He is the first to manufacture the artificial leg in the United States. It was first used in Germany.

The new leg is attached to the wearer's stump by suction, requiring no straps or "stump sock" as used in other types.

Aluminum and Willow

The aluminum and willow leg contains a pressure valve which creates a vacuum as the stump is inserted. The leg is securely attached until the wearer wants to take it off. Then he merely turns a valve which admits air, breaking the vacuum.

The new device has already been inspected by Col. Harry W. McFadden, chief medical officer of the Veterans Administration in Pittsburgh. He recommended it to the V. A. authorities in Washington.

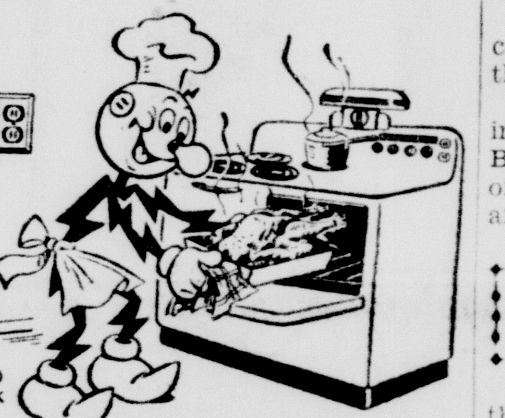

Thomas Williams, a legless veteran of Pittsburgh, wore the limb for a week and declared it superior to all others.

Porten, a World War I army officer, first worked on the artificial leg in Germany in 1933, before coming to the U. S. He plans to produce seven more of the legs to submit for study by the American Research Council, which studies and improves artificial limbs.

No major sports were discarded at Penn State during the war.

LIQUOR STORE EMPLOYEES MAY GET PAY INCREASE

PITTSBURGH, July 17.—(INS)—George I. Bloom, secretary to Governor Edward Martin, today was scheduled to meet with a group of newly formed Allegheny county liquor store employees in Harrisburg to discuss a wage increase.

The new group is headed by Henry J. Haver, manager of a Pittsburgh store, who resigned as president of the CIO-United Public Workers when members voted over his protest to join a state wide strike October 2.

Meanwhile, Paul Keller, business agent for local 85 of the union, said the union's plans will not be altered by what any other group does. He said the union will proceed with strike plans as scheduled.

Pittsburgh Report Has Acute Shortage Of Stenographers

PITTSBURGH, July 17.—(INS)—There is one shortage today that should please the shortage-harried housewife who sometimes wonders just how hubby spends that busy day 'midst a bevy of beautiful secretaries.

The United States employment service reported there is an acute scarcity of stenographers—beautiful or otherwise.

Miss Lorraine Pittman, a USES interviewer in Pittsburgh who looks like she would make a pretty neat secretary herself, admitted she was unable to find the true reason for the shortage but said she had some definite ideas. She declared:

"I guess the biggest reason for the shortage is the men are back from the wars. The girls didn't seem to mind working while the boys were fighting overseas."

"But now that the war is all over... I suppose... well, you know what I suppose..."

No Longer Interested Furthermore, Miss Pittman declared this secretary shortage didn't look like it would improve in the immediate future.

"The USES," she said, "has made a survey of the various schools throughout the Pittsburgh district and it seems the girls no longer are interested in secretarial work."

Miss Pittman said she felt a majority of girls quit school during wartime to work in defense plants. And quite a number who quit school were not returning.

Since the end of the war, Miss Pittman pointed out, the ladies have been refusing jobs that (1) will not allow them to dress up and (2) forces them to work evenings.

"I guess," she laughed, "you also can blame that on the return of the menfolk."

"Before the war, the girls willingly accepted any job at any hour. But, believe me, you'll have a heck of a time getting them into sweaters and slacks today."

Farm Safety Week Observance Urged By Gov. Martin

HARRISBURG, July 17.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin today called for state-wide observance of farm safety week beginning July 27.

The chief executive pointed out that the death toll in farm accidents was the largest among major industries. One-fourth of the industrial fatalities during 1944 occurred in the agriculture field, he stated.

"Most farm accidents result in loss of man and machine hours," he declared.

"In this critical year of need for more food, serious attention should be given by all farm people to accident hazards and safety practices."

One per cent of the estimated 8000 annual farm accidents in Pennsylvania were fatal, the governor reported. He urged farmers to devote some time during the week to removing safety hazards.

The oldest kingdom in Europe is Denmark.

The highborn maidens of China for many generations have made a practice of holding a walnut in each hand and continuously rolling it with the fingers. This simple exercise is for the purpose of keeping the hands supple and flexible.

Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking soda and other alkalis if the true cause of your trouble is constipation.

In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And when it gets blocked it fails to digest properly.

What you want for real relief is not soda or an alkali—but something to "unblock" your intestinal tract. Something to clean it out effectively—help Nature get back on her feet.

Get Carter's Pills right now. Take them as directed. They gently and effectively "unblock" your digestive tract. This permits your food to move along normally. Nature's own digestive juices can then reach it. You get genuine relief that makes you feel really good again.

Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking soda and other alkalis if the true cause of your trouble is constipation.

In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And when it gets blocked it fails to digest properly.

What you want for real relief is not soda or an alkali—but something to "unblock" your intestinal tract. Something to clean it out effectively—help Nature get back on her feet.

One per cent of the estimated 8000 annual farm accidents in Pennsylvania were fatal, the governor reported. He urged farmers to devote some time during the week to removing safety hazards.

Law Violators Factor In Cost To Taxpayers In Lawrence County

So you don't like the taxes you have to pay? You can't see what you're getting out of it? Well, just take the matter up with that neighbor of yours who gets shut up in the clink for disorderly conduct or who just got out of Western pen for forging his uncle's name to a couple of rubber checks.

Those are the boys who send the taxes up—they and the man who beats his wife or the little boy who swipes an automobile, or the gal who develops an interesting case of kleptomania.

Court House Records Show
You can look at the records yourself—they're on file up in County Controller Andy Dadds' office in the court house and Mr. Dadds is perfectly cooperative about showing them to you.

"See," he says, "for $3,347.80 for a bunch of fellows in the Allegheny Workhouse, and that's just the bill for the past six months. In January we paid a bill of $4,323.90 for the previous six months. And two women at the State Industrial Home for Women cost the county $110.01 during April, with the state paying the same amount. That's women though—always expensive."

One man cost $18.23 for the 17 days which he spent at Eastern penitentiary during April. He has spent more time there since then, but the bill wasn't available at the moment. Western penitentiary, where 45 Lawrence countians are residing at the present time, sent a bill to the comptroller's office for $1,580.09 for the month of April.

Boys' School, Too
"We also got bills from George Junior Republic for $102.50, from Bethesda Home for Boys for $30, from the Boys' Industrial Home for $183, and from the Pennsylvania Training school for $169.39—all in May," Mr. Dadds adds. "Huntingdon and Camp Hill, also industrial schools for boys, usually cost from $400 to $500 a month."

Once upon a time, the county also had the burden of the persons who are committed to institutions for the insane, but under the existing set-up the state takes over that cost now, with the county paying for transportation. The county also pays for the lunacy commission if the patient is committed by court order.

Criminally insane persons are still partly a county responsibility, however, with one man at Torrence costing $28.96 during May, and four men at Fairview costing $19.95.

Children who were "boarded out" on probation during June cost $41, while $97.96 was paid to the Margaret Henry Home for the care of several youngsters. The cost of the county detention home, aside from the salary of the county probation officer, includes clothing, doctor and dentist bills, domestic help, the matron's salary, shoes, laundry, gasoline, water and other utilities, furnishings and repairs, and more of the same.

And then, of course, there's the little matter of the county jail where a variety of persons spent 610 prison days during June at a cost of 45 cents a day. Figure it up—even, the jail isn't so cheap. Now you know what you're paying for.

Red Cross Needs Volunteers For Sewing, Knitting

Cast Socks For Navy Hospitals. Winter Clothes for Refugee Children Are On Quota

With winter again in the offing, displaced persons and other war-stricken European and Asiatic peoples are still faced with a clothing shortage which can be alleviated by volunteer sewing groups, the local chapter of the Red Cross pointed out today.

Although many Europeans are well dressed and though many who are situated in their own homes have clothing which is at least warm if not new, there are many thousands who have not yet been able to return to their homes or to re-establish their disrupted lives.

The quota for local Red Cross sewing, half of which is to be completed by fall and the remainder by the end of the year, includes 25 children's coats, 25 children's capes and 25 children's snow suits. Mrs. Earl Campbell, chairman of the sewing groups, is asking for volunteers to do the work.

Mrs. Robert Garland, chairman of the knitting groups, is also asking for volunteers to knit walking cast toe socks for men in naval hospitals. The socks are needed by men who were injured in the war, and can be easily knitted at home, on trains, at club meetings or on vacations. Yarn for the socks and material for the sewing groups are both furnished by the Red Cross.

Chicago Housewife Seeks Meat, Uses Gun, Given Fine

CHICAGO, July 17.—(INS)—The meat shortage may have been hard on a housewife's temper but a Chicago court ruled it does not call for a gun.

Mrs. Josephine Giunta, 44, knew this today and her experience cost her a $100 fine.

Mrs. Giunta appeared before Judge Jay M. Braude in women's court yesterday charged with threatening Fred Pratt, manager of a Swift & Co. branch store, with a gun because he told her he didn't have any meat to sell her.

She explained she had been unable to buy meat for several days and had gone to the Swift branch under the impression she could get meat for dinner.

Pratt complained to police that he was threatened and the court action followed.

Order Crackdown On State Highway Traffic Offenders

State Police Commissioner Orders
Campaign Against Speeding,
Reckless Driving

HARRISBURG, July 17.—(INS)—
State Police Commissioner C. M.
Wilhelm emphasized Tuesday that troopers were under orders to crack down on speeders and reckless drivers.

"We are exerting a steady pressure to maintain safety on the highways," Wilhelm asserted.

"That pressure means: First, carefully observing drivers on the highways because we feel that 10 per cent of the drivers are causing all the trouble. Second, we are observing conditions of automobiles.
Those drivers who insist upon traveling at speeds ranging up to 80 miles an hour are by far the worst operators on the roads today and are included in the group causing the most accidents," Wilhelm emphasized.

"Motorists who insist upon violating the law will be arrested," he asserted.

75% On Duty

He reported that approximately 75 per cent of the State police force was on duty patrolling the Commonwealth's more than 40,000 miles of highways.

The force currently musters 1349 men including 120 recruits undergoing instruction at the Hershey Training school.

Wilhelm pointed out that between May 15 and June 30 State policemen inspected more than 103,000

automobiles and trucks on Pennsylvania highways, of which 35,661 were found to have mechanical defects.

Automobile equipment scrutinized by troopers included headlights, tail lights, windshield wipers and tires. Trucks were weighed for overloading.

"We are taking all the precautions we can to prevent accidents and doing everything possible to assist motorists to drive the highways safely," Wilhelm stated.

PITTSBURGH, July 17.—(INS)—
A raging fire in the Union Provision to prevent it from spreading to adjoining buildings. One fireman was injured.

An estimate of damages was not available.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, July 17.—(INS)—
The girl in Hollywood most determined on a serious dramatic career is a beauty with brains.

She is Vienna-born Vanessa
Brown, 18, who is successfully combining her screen work with her studies at the University of California at Los Angeles. Once upon a time she was quite often the guest of the "Quiz Kids."

Right now she's working in her fifth picture "The Late George Apley."

Executives at 20th Century Fox, who now have her under exclusive contract, believe Vanessa's going to develop into another actress of the scope of Anne Baxter.

She hopes they're right.

"I love screen work," Vanessa told your reporter, "I've arranged my university course so I'll be of the most value to my work."

"I intend to complete my studies because they'll be of great value to me as an actress."

Vanessa will be a junior when she resumes her studies in the fall.

She's had stage experience. She played in "Watch On The Rhine."
She's also been much in demand for radio roles.

She's five feet, five, weighs 120 pounds, has dark hair and eyes and a sense of humor which keeps the set in hysterics.

With the summer's most torrid

heat wave in full blast, Ingrid Berg-

A thief who robbed the home of a blind woman in Pittsburgh today was the object of a city wide police

Mrs. Mildred Schwartz reported that a burglar broke into her home and among other things stole a talking book—a novel Mrs. Schwartz was "reading." The novel belonged to the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind.

Other items reported missing were a radio, clock, iron and $3 in cash.

Corum Contends Punch Was Okay

Corum At Ringside Saw Robinson Hit Curcio As Bell Sounded

By BILL CORUM
NEW YORK, July 17.—If Marty Servo, who is to defend his welterweight championship against him soon, had seen Ray Robinson stop Joe Curcio in Madison Square Garden the other night, he wouldn't have liked what he saw. Neither did some of Curcio's rabid rooters, or possibly we should say, betting supporters, from Newark.

Before they were through with it, these cents were in a fair way of starting a dandy little riot in the Eighth Avenue Temple of Tap. And on such a hot evening, too!

On Up and Up
What they were squawking about, aside from losing their money, was as close to Hoyle as Hoyle's bathing suit on the beach. Jacobs Beach or any other. It was all very much on the up and up except Curcio, who was very much on the down and down and still flat on his back three minutes later.

The beef that these fellows were trying to chill at the near expense of several broken heads was that the knockout punch had landed after the bell ending round one. It didn't. On the contrary, it landed as simultaneously with the clang of the bell as if Robinson himself had struck it with the same punch that stiffened Joe.

I'm in a position to say that positively for several reasons. The bell is on my side of the ring and just three seats to my left. It's difficult to watch two things at once. But simple enough to see and hear at the same time.

Both at Once
The two fighters were right above me and I was looking squarely at Curcio when I saw "Sugar Ray's" finishing punch land and heard the gong at the same instant.

In addition to this, Don Dumphy invariably turns the microphone over to me immediately when the bell rings and I was talking almost as soon as Curcio was flat on his back. I know that because it was necessary for me to lift my head to see over the apron of the ring to find out what was taking place in it. I was talking. You can't fall to know that because it forces you to talk over the microphone instead of into it.

So this is one time that you can take my word for it for sure that the finishing punch didn't come after the end of the round but right on the stroke. Curcio definitely hadn't stopped fighting and Robinson couldn't have pulled the punch because of the bell, for the excellent reason that it hadn't rung.

Nashua Blasts Pulaski Club, 9-1

Jake Sagenich was in good form last night as he pitched his Nashua club to an easy 9-1 victory over the Pulaski team in a North County loop affair.

Fanning eight men, the Nashua chucker held the Pulaski scoreless until the seventh and final frame when they garnered their lone tally. Joe Patsy with three singles and Hill and Badila with two hits each, led the winners' attack.

Young was the losing pitcher for Pulaski.
Score by innings: R H E
Nashua 124 100 10—9 12 4
Pulaski 000 001—1 7 7
Batteries: Nashua, Sagenich and Badila. Pulaski, Young and Merrill.

Says Pittsburgh Ignored Plan To Save Light Costs

PITTSBURGH, July 17.—(INS)—S. C. Lovett, resigning superintendent of the Bureau of Lights, today charged that the Pittsburgh director of public works refused to consider his suggestion that would save the city $70,000 operating costs on its lighting system.

He further charged that under the proposed plan the Bureau of Lights will become a political football and give war heaters more jobs to dole out and thereby increase taxes.

Lovett said that John S. Devlin, works director, and John Stevenson, chief engineer, proposed acceptance of a New York firm's bid to install and operate a lighting system that would jump costs over the present system.

The former bureau superintendent's charges were hurled into the already explosive controversy as Duquesne Light company and city officials were to meet for a showdown on the future of operating costs for lights in the city's streets, parks and bridges.

Church League Softball Results

Epworth In Streak
Epworth Methodists came through with their fourth straight win last night as they bounced the Third U. P. team, 9-6, at Rose avenue field.

Feature of the game was E. Morgan's catch of Hook's drive in the sixth inning, choking off a three-run homer.

St. Vitus Loop Leaders
St. Vitus walloped the First U. P. team last night at Dean park thereby taking over first place in the league.

St. Augustine turned in a five-hit performance on the mound for the Saints while the attack was featured by a round-tripper by Ambrose.

Charley Burley Defeats Banks

PITTSBURGH, July 17.—(INS)—Charley Burley, tough slugging Pittsburgh middleweight, won a unanimous 10-round decision last night from Charley Banks of Cincinnati at Prize Ziv's outdoor boxing arena.

Banks, who had 12 straight victories to his credit, was no match for the Pittsburgh ring veteran.

On the same card, Charley Eschman, Cincinnati welterweight, beat Jackie Armitage in a six-round semi-windup. Eddie Hines of Pittsburgh and Frankie Gerard of Toledo, a couple of bantams, fought to a six-round draw, while Waddy Blackwell of Homestead captured a decision over Pete Spotti of Cecil. They are welterweights.

Urge Curbs On Liquor In State

HARRISBURG, July 17.—(INS)—Two temperance groups were lined up today to urge curbs on liquor manufacturing and sales.

The Federated Legislative Committee of Pennsylvania, a church organization, called for legislation strengthening local option laws when the general assembly convenes in January.

During a meeting at Harrisburg, a committee headed by Rev. M. M. Pomy, of Philadelphia, recommended a ban on Sunday liquor sales in clubs, inclusion of clubs in the state's quota licensing system, increased license fees and a limit of one license to each 1,000 residents of a municipality.

At Williamsport, the Youth Temperance Council of the Women's Christian Temperance Union asked President Truman to ban use of Pennsylvania potatoes in the manufacture of alcohol.

BREAD SHORTAGE IN INSTITUTIONS OF PENNSYLVANIA

HARRISBURG, July 17.—(INS)—The State Welfare Department reported today that bread supplies were scarce in some state institutions.

A spokesman reported that emergency allotments of flour granted by the U. S. Agriculture Department were expected to be delivered soon. The hardest hit institutions were mental hospitals at Torrence, Norristown, Philadelphia and Wernersville.

Flour supplies at all institutions were cut 40 per cent when the conservation program was initiated. The official said sufficient meat was available since all hospitals and penal institutions either purchased cattle for slaughtering or raised their own steers.

Ray Patrols To Face Greater A-Blast Hazards

Death Ray Crews Expect More Debris On Water After Underwater Blast July 25

BIKINI LAGOON, July 17.—(INS)—Twenty death ray patrol crews that form the advance guard of return ships to Bikini lagoon after atomic bomb bursts prepared today to face two added hazards in the underwater test July 25.

They expect the lagoon to be littered with debris after the underwater burst, constituting at least some navigation dangers to small personnel craft.

There is a strong possibility, too, that the small boats may have to be put over the sides from the mother transport ships into five-foot waves of the open sea instead of the quiet waters of the lagoon.

Eleven of the 20 commanders who handled boats in the first test also will be in the second death ray patrol.

They are in charge of personnel craft with crews of four men and each with three or four radiological technicians or army or navy doctors.

The doctors handle the Geiger counters and other devices to detect and measure radioactivity. These crews are first in the lagoon after the unmanned drone boats.

By their reports, Commander Draper L. Kauffman and his aides on Vice Admiral W. H. P. Blandy's flagship, the Mt. McKinley, chart the areas of dangerous rays as each boat plies through its assigned sector.

In the underwater burst, the residue of radioactivity lingering in the air and water dissipated rapidly.

The 11 officers told newsmen all went smoothly. None got into any dangerous radioactivity. One crew, commanded by Ensign Richard H. Hodges, Baltimore, Md., was exposed to one-tenth roentgen of radioactivity, the full 24-hour does permitted in the operation, and had to withdraw from patrol work for the way.

The patrol commanders—all men

20 to 24 years old—who are responsible for advance guard movements to protect 42,000 officers and men of the task force, told newsmen they do not regard their jobs as particularly hazardous.

Even the floating debris, they believe, will be more of a nuisance than a hazard. The small craft are very maneuverable, and would be damaged only by striking some submerged object the helmsman failed to see.

Likewise, by maneuverability, the boats get out of radioactivity areas rapidly when the Geiger instruments show rays and dangerous to personnel. They proceed slowly, so that little radioactivity spray is thrown on the canopy that protects the crew from monitors.

Some officers worried about the possibility that the small boats will have to be lowered from transports outside of the lagoon. In the first test radioactivity was not present at the lagoon entrance, and mother ships were able to proceed inside.

Several officers said inexperience of their crews brought danger that men will be crushed against the sides of ships, or the bottoms torn out of the small craft, as they are lowered into five-foot waves.

Oleo Tax Headed For Court Test

Equity Proceedings Are Entered In Dauphin County Court By Grocers

HARRISBURG, July 17.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's 45-year-old tax on oleomargarine appeared headed today for a test in the Dauphin county court.

The commonwealth's answer to equity proceedings initiated by four grocers alleging the levy was discriminatory was filed in the court yesterday. A date must be fixed by October 1 for a hearing during the October term of court, according to the prothonotary's office.

The answer, filed by Deputy Attorney General Ralph B. Umsted, denied charges that oleo sales license fees constituted "harsh and unreasonable restrictions."

"It is denied that the oleomargarine laws of Pennsylvania are arbitrary and unreasonable, or that they interfere with business or impose harsh and unreasonable restrictions upon the lawful occupation of the plaintiffs, or constitute any abuse of the police power of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania," it was stated.

Charges that the excises were "prohibitive and confiscatory" also were denied.

License fees range from $10 for boarding house proprietors to $1000 for manufacturers.

The plaintiffs were E. C. Orris of Mechanicsburg; H. E. Barnhart, of Carlisle; T. J. Flynn and S. A. Yorty, both of Lebanon.

MORE GAS SOON FOR BRITISH CARS

LONDON, July 17.—(INS)—Emmanuel Shinwell, minister of fuel and power, announced today that British gasoline rations will be increased 50 per cent as a result of the American loan.

Shinwell made his announcement in the House of Commons, where yesterday it was announced the loan would permit increases in children's bread rations.

The gasoline increase will mean that the average motorist in Britain can now travel about 300 miles a month, instead of 200.
